DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement filed March 24, 2005 has been made of record and the references cited therein have been considered by the examiner.

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claim 15 is provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claim 14 of copending Application No. 10/793,482. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Seibel (U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2001/0055462).

In regard to claims 1, 2, 4 and 15-20, Seibel teaches a scanning optical fiber 80 comprised of a plurality of photon detectors 92 arrayed around a central optical fiber 94 (see Figure 3A). Optical fiber 94 is caused to vibrate in the direction indicated by arrow 98 by a tube piezoelectric actuator 95 through which the optical fiber extends (see Figure 3A and section 0077). Figures 3A and 3B show that the piezoelectric actuator 95 causes the distal end of optical fiber 94 to move relative to the imaged area to increase the field of view. In regard to claim 3, Seibel teaches an embodiment comprised of an optical fiber 244 that has a ball lens 245 at its distal end (see Figure 5H) as well as other embodiments with distal lenses (see lens 154 in Figure 4B). With further respect to claims 4 and 15-19, Seibel teaches that alternate actuators from the piezoelectric actuator 95 can be used, such as electromechanical systems having a first and second actuators (see section 0079). In regard to claim 5, Seibel teaches the use of illumination fibers, such as optical fiber 284 and optical fiber 300 (see Figure 6C and section 0105). In regard to claim 6, Seibel teaches a light source system 340 comprised of red, green and blue light sources 342, 344 and 346, respectively, and a UV light source 348 (see section 0106). Seibel also teaches retrofitting an existing endoscope 540 with the optical fiber assembly 542 where light emitted by the scanning optical fiber is reflected from a beam splitter 554 (see section 0160). In regard to claims 7-9, Seibel teaches that the endoscope 540 is provided with a CCD 566 and the signal produced by the CCD is conveyed through a lead 568 externally to enable imaging of tissue (see section 0160). Seibel also teaches an alternate embodiment having a computer workstation 462 with a high resolution color monitor 464 for displaying the image (see section 0148). In regard to claims 10-14, see sections 0110, 0150 and 0152.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Applicant should note the following prior art references disclosing vision catheters with means to vibrate the distal end to increase the field of view: Kimura, U.S. Patent No. 4,846,155; Hibino et al., U.S. Patent No. 5,060,632 and Japanese Publication No. JP 1-237613.
